Dave Baughman "The Outdoor Insider"

With the month of October coming to a close, so are the fishing seasons on some of the lakes in the region. That doesn't mean the end of fishing. Not by a long shot. There is still great trout fishing on a bunch of year-round lakes, and other terrific opportunities for anglers.

I took a drive to Billy Clapp Lake to look at the water level. This is a great bet for trout fishing in the fall, and I wanted to see if I could still launch the Bob Feil Boats and Motors Smoker Craft Phantom. There was a vehicle and trailer in the parking area when I arrived, but it was obvious that the boat that was launched was a small one. The last section of the dock is still floating and there is still some concrete above the sandy bottom. The fall trout bite can be good at times on Billy Clapp, and soon there will be anglers lining the shore near the boat ramp soaking Power Bait. This activity attracts a good crowd right up to when it freezes over. There are some big trout landed here. Billy Clapp is 13 miles from Soap Lake on Highway 28. I noticed that the Stratford Road Bridge is closed right now, so the short cut from Moses Lake isn't an option.

Blue Lake is one of the lakes that closes on October 31st, but after I checked on the water level at Billy Clapp Lake I went back to Soap Lake and traveled up to Blue Lake. When I arrived at the launch, there was a couple just coming off the water to load their boat. The woman holding the boat was excited. She said they had a great morning and had probably released 30 rainbow. They were trolling and I could see they were using in-line sinkers, and they said that they had great success with a Wicked Lure spinner and a Wedding Ring spinner. The water was like a mirror, and it was a perfect fall day to be on the water at Blue Lake. With the good fishing in late October, I expect the trout fishing to be really great when it opens next spring!

While the fishing for big crappie, bluegill and even bass continues to be very good on Potholes Reservoir, the fall walleye bite hasn't begun. Looking back at some of my photos from October and even November show me with some very impressive walleye caught on Potholes. I talked to a friend who is a guide on Potholes and other walleye lakes in the region, and he has buttoned up his boat for the season. His last several trips on Portholes produced a mix of crappie, perch, bluegill and catfish, but very few walleye. The good news is that the water level on Potholes has come up and appears to be nearly full. The last time I launched from the State Park I tilted my Mercury 250 motor up, seeing on the Garmin that I was in very shallow water. When I deployed my Minn Kota, it bottomed out. I had to trim it up to get off the muddy flat to get to deeper water. That shouldn't be an issue now. Boaters should be able to launch from the State Park, Blythe and Sampson Pit. This is at the east end of O'Sullivan Dam. This week's photo was taken on Potholes in late October couple of years ago.

Speaking of walleye fishing, I got a note from the Spokane Walleye Club, reminding folks that their meetings are always on the last Wednesday of the month. They are held at the Inland Northwest Wildlife Council office, at 6116 N Market Street in Spokane. They have guest speakers every month.

I just finished the monthly update for subscribers that receive 12 monthly updates and also four quarterly E-Letters. They get more detailed information like my most recent fishing experiences. In this issue to talk about my recent fishing experiences that I recommend to readers, and some current information about the potential steelhead season in our area. I talk about the fishing for triploid rainbow trout on Rufus Woods Reservoir and where I fish for them and how I catch them. I included maps of the area I fish and where, and even a map and description of Seatons Grove. I explain the fees required to fish at the middle net pens and launch site and advice on how to launch at Seatons Grove, where no fees are required. The crappie fishing on Potholes Reservoir and Moses Lake is the best I have ever seen, and I explain how I have been catching crappie that are often a foot long. If you would like to sign up to receive the monthly updates and the free quarterly E-Letters, just go to my website at www.FishingMagician.com and click on the E-Letter button. Fill out the form and payment information and I will add you to the list.

The weather has turned cold and rainy here in Leavenworth, so I am making adjustments to the Bob Feil Boats and Motors Smoker Craft. I put away the side and back curtains this summer and even removed the canvas top during the very windy sockeye season on Lake Wenatchee. Now I have put the top back on and the side curtains. I had Jeff Jones at Jeff's Upholstery in Wenatchee do some minor repairs to the back curtain before I put it back on the boat. Jeff has done amazing work for me over the past nearly 20 years. I wouldn't go anywhere else. I keep my boat at home as long as I can, trying to get as many trips in as possible before the snow makes it too difficult. When I have the side curtains and the back curtain zipped, I have a fumeless heater, a Mr. Heater portable Buddy, that makes the interior toasty. There are some other things that need attention. I make sure my batteries are on a charger. The cold weather drains them. I also make sure I have run my wash down hose dry. It can freeze and rupture. I always drain my outboard motors at the launch, too.

Don't miss any of my updates on fishing in our region. Be sure to Follow me on the www.FishingMagician.com Facebook page!

TOOLS

This is a good time to clean your hand tools. Remove all dirt and rust from the metal, sand and repaint wooden handles. Store in a dry location for the winter.

BULBS

As long as the ground has not frozen, you can plant spring bulbs directly into the garden. Follow instructions on bulb packaging for depth of planting & provide a mulch cover over the top of newly planted bulbs to prevent heaving.

TREES & SHRUBS

Continue to water your trees and shrubs until the ground freezes. Tie up or trim back branches of loosely branched Evergreens. Pull mulch away from trunks to prevent rodents from hiding and eating the bark.

HOUSEPLANTS

Check plants that have summered outside for pests frequently. Reduce your rate of watering to allow for slower growth and do not fertilize until spring. Plant forced bulbs (paperwhites, amaryllis) now for winter interest.

JOE KOPP EARNS AMA HALL-OF-FAME INDUCTION

PINKERTON, OHIO — The tiny unincorporated community of Mica, Washington's claim to fame has always been as home of a robust brick manufacturing facility along State Route 27.

Now its reported 563 area residents can also add home to American Motorcyclist Association new Hall of Famer, Joe Kopp to the list.

Joining Kopp as part of the AMA Motorcycle Hall of Fame Class of 2025 includes Dana Bell, Chris Carter, Colin Edwards, Chad Reed and Ryan Young, all of whom completed the tradition of receiving their Hall of Fame rings and iconic gold jackets during the ceremony.

"Tonight, we celebrate the legends who have shaped motorcycling in America — the pioneers, champions, innovators, and visionaries whose impact will be remembered for generations," AMA President and CEO Rob Dingman said.

An AMA news release described the 56-year-old Kopp as, "One of the all-time greats in one of motorcycling's oldest forms of racing, Joe Kopp's illustrious racing career led him into the AMA Motorcycle Hall of Fame."

Reaching the pinnacle of his racing career in 2000 by winning the 2000 AMA Grand National Championship, Kopp also rode his way to a pair of AMA Supertracker National Championships (1999 and 2000) and multiple AMA Hot Shoe Championships (1999, 2000 and 2004). In total, Kopp finished his career with 21 wins and 81 podiums at the AMA Grand National level.

Kopp is just one of 20 racers to complete the prestigious Dirt Track Grand Slam, winning at least one race in each of the four flat track disciplines — Short Track, TT, Half-Mile and Mile.

"I want to thank the people who helped me get this Gold Jacket," Kopp said. "I didn't have the goal as a kid to be a championship racer. I just liked to ride with my cousins … Thank you, everybody, my wife, my kids, my friends, thank you!"

Kopp's son, Kody, has followed in his father's footsteps and has been quite successful having now three consecutive AFT Singles champion who is now pursuing racing on asphalt.

BYRON MAKES CHAMPIONSHIP FIELD WITH 11TH-HOUR WIN AT MARTINSVILLE | By Reid Spencer, NASCAR Wire Service

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (October 26, 2025) —With a heroic, gloves-off drive on Sunday in the crucible that is Martinsville Speedway, William Byron earned a shot at the NASCAR Cup Series title and simultaneously saved the rest of the Championship 4 field from its worst nightmare.

Byron led three times for 304 laps—a career best for a single race—and beat Ryan Blaney to the finish line by 0.717 seconds after a restart with 11 laps left to win the Xfinity 500 elimination race under most exigent circumstances.

In a scenario under which both Byron and Blaney needed a victory to advance to the Nov. 2 Championship 4 event at Phoenix Raceway, Byron passed Blaney on Lap 457 during a long green-flag run and held the top spot for the final 44 laps.

"Pass" doesn't do Byron's move on Lap 457 justice. By then, Blaney's No.12 Team Penske Ford had begun to fade. Byron charged into Turn 1 to the inside of Blaney's Mustang and knocked it up the track.

Byron rushed past, and Blaney never found an opportunity to return the favor. Hence, for the first time since the Gen 7 race car was introduced into the Cup Series in 2022, Team Penske, the organization that won the last three championships, won't have a driver in the Championship 4—and the rest of the field can sleep more easily.

"Damn, I've got a lot to say," Byron said with a broad smile. "Things have a way of working out. God really tests your resilience a lot of times. We've been tested. Just unbelievable.

Blaney, who went to Victory Lane to congratulate the race winner, had no issue with Byron's winning move.

"Yeah, I look back on that long run before the last yellow where William got by me," said Blaney, who qualified 31st and methodically worked his way through the field. "I just got loose, trying to work through that. My rear drive was fading quick. I tried to manage a lot in the beginning. Yeah, just was starting to fade."

Byron's victory in a must-win situation knocked seventh-place finisher Christopher Bell out of the championship race. Bell came to Martinsville 37 points above the elimination line and one point ahead Kyle Larson, but Larson, who finished fifth, outscored Bell on Sunday and claimed the final Championship 4 berth by seven points.

Also eliminated were third-place finisher Chase Elliott and reigning series champion Joey Logano, who ran eighth.

Larson and Byron will represent Hendrick Motorsports against Joe Gibbs Racing drivers Denny Hamlin and Chase Briscoe in the season finale. Hamlin and Briscoe already had qualified for the title race with victories in the Round of 8, but both experienced engine failures at Martinsville.

Blaney soon had the lead and control of the race—and maintained it until Byron made the winning pass on Lap 457. "Wasn't quite enough tonight. We'll just move on," Blaney said.

Non-Playoff drivers Ross Chastain and Ryan Preece ran fourth and sixth, respectively. Todd Gilliland Josh Berry were ninth and 10th.
